Ten years ago, SUNSTONE published a compilation of LDS organizations and periodicals; needless to say, much has changed since then. While the intervening years have seen fascinating and explosive expansion in Church-related humanitarian organizations, Latter-day Saint computer networks, and other areas, audience-specific publications and organizations in the gay and lesbian Mormon community have experienced the greatest growth.

A GUIDE TO THE MORMON UNIVERSE: MORMON ORGANIZATIONS & PERIODICALS

Compiled by Bryan Waterman

IN THE JUNE 1985 SUNSTONE, CECELIA WARNER compiled a list of LDS organizations and periodicals under the title “A Guide to the Mormon Network.” Since that time, SUNSTONE has announced new forums in its Sunstone Calendar section. In April 1993, I began the comprehensive revision that appears here.

The year-long process of updating old entries, creating new ones, and eliminating those organizations and publications now defunct has proved to be a fascinating endeavor. One point of particular interest has been noting trends in the types of organizations developed in the last nine years. One area experiencing much growth since 1985 is Church-related humanitarian organizations. From the Church-wide fasts for Ethiopia in 1985 to the present, a number of groups with LDS interests have come into existence, and in 1992 many of them began to meet under the umbrella of the International Action Group.

Another development in Mormon networking since 1985 relates to the expansion of the information highway. Beginning with “the original” LDS-Net and the popular MORMON-L, which formerly operated from BYU, electronically predisposed Latter-day Saints could carry on conversations with friends and colleagues on campus or across the continent. Other electronic discussion groups have followed in droves, carving for Mormonism a comfortable niche on the Internet. While I have listed in the section at the end of this guide as many open-access electronic groups as possible, another set of “invitation only” mailing lists exists as well. Still, listed or unlisted, electronic discussion seems to be the future wave of Mormon communication (see Sheldon Greaves, “Cybersaints: Mormon Settlements on the Electronic Frontier,” SUNSTONE, Sept. 1994).

The area experiencing the greatest increase in numbers of audience-specific publications and organizations is the gay and lesbian Mormon community. While the 1985 list includes only the forerunner group, Affirmation, and a parents' support group, HELP, this list contains fifteen organizations or publications directed at the gay community (not counting Legacy’s sporadically incarnated Gay RMS and Gay Y Alumni). These range from Evergreen International, which aims to change same-sex orientation, to Reconciliation, the goal of which is to increase spirituality in the lives of gay Saints. Support groups also exist designed specifically for friends and families of homosexual Mormons.

As might be expected, other groups' increases in numbers reflect the larger society's growing awareness of multicultural and pluralistic issues. In 1985, only the Exponent II specifically targeted a female LDS audience. Today the Mormon Women's Forum has chapters across the United States and Canada, the members of which receive a feminist quarterly. More mainstream women are the intended audience for Latter-day Women, a new, Reader's Digest-like publication. UpLift, a small newsletter, attempts to address the massive issues involving LDS people of color. Aside from domestic U.S. innovations, independent LDS periodicals have recently begun in Europe and Japan, providing international members with alternative forums for reflecting on Mormonism's place in their lives.

Aside from changes in types and numbers of entries, this catalogue differs from Warner's in three major ways. First, I have separated the list of periodicals from the organizations, necessarily making the entire list much longer. This has been done mainly to allow easier access to information on groups or periodicals about which searchers know little more than a particular name. Second, I have included subscription and/or membership fee information where it has been available. Third, I have chosen to include information on RLDS and other non-Utah Mormon organizations and publications, at least those for which information was readily available. Of course, information in this area is not exhaustive—such a list would require a separate catalog—but I have sought to include major contributions to the Mormon network. I have also provided information on the leading anti-Mormon groups, since such groups are—whether or not they want to be—part of the Mormon and Mormon-watching communities.

In as many places as possible, I have quoted descriptions directly from informational material provided by the organizations. In all other cases, I alone stand responsible for what informational errors may exist. In the year I have been compiling this project up to date. SUNSTONE will continue to publish updates in the Sunstone Calendar news section.

BRIIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY
PROVO, UT 84602
801/378-8481
Founded in 1977 as the BYU Academy of Dentists, this independent organization exists to instruct and support LDS dentists within a Mormon framework. Members have also volunteered service in Africa, China, Israel, Mexico, South America, the Republic of Georgia (formerly in the Soviet Union), Thailand, the West Indies, and the United States. The organization's 250 members meet annually.

AFFIRMATION:
GAY AND LESBIAN MORMONS
PO. BOX 46022
LOS ANGELES, CA 90046
213/235-7231
"Affirmation is a non-profit educational fellowship group serving gay and lesbian Latter-day Saints, their families and friends since 1977. It is a place for open, honest dialogue, friendship and support. All are welcome, regardless of gender, orientation, or religious affiliation." Affirmation chapters meet as often as twice monthly in many metropolitan U.S. areas. The organization holds an annual conference, usually in October, and publishes a monthly newsletter, Affinity. Membership is around 400. (See subgroup Gamofites.) Affirmation members also operate the computer network Q-SAINTS.

ASSOCIATION OF MORMON COUNSELORS AND PSYCHOTHERAPISTS
2500 EAST 1700 SOUTH
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84117
801/583-6227
Since 1975, AMCAP has sought to "promote fellowship, foster communication, enhance personal and professional development and promote a forum for counselors and psychotherapists whose common bond is membership in and adherence to the principles and standards of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, both in their personal lives and professional practice." With a membership of 1200, AMCAP meets twice annually (April and October), and publishes a semiannual newsletter and a journal containing articles on psychotherapy with an LDS emphasis.

AML
ASSOCIATION FOR MORMON LETTERS
c/o JOHN BENNION
916 SOUTH 1375 EAST
SPRINGVILLE, UT 84663
801/489-8841
With 250 members, AML is now a well-established group, organized to "promote creation and study of literature within a Mormon cultural framework." The association sponsors an annual symposium, readings, and recognizes the achievements of LDS authors. Members receive a quarterly newsletter and symposium proceedings.

ASPEN BOOKS
6211 SOUTH 380 WEST
MURRAY, UT 84107
801/268-1199
FAX: 801/268-0992
Aspen Books considers itself a literary Mormon alternative press. Founded in 1990, Aspen aims to transcend the "fluff," or low quality literature, that has been released by traditional LDS publishers. Recent titles include The LDS Speaker's Source Book and John Lowe Butler: Biography of a Mormon.

AUSTRALIAN MORMON STUDIES ASSOCIATION
c/o MARJORIE NEWTON
18 HANDLE STREET
BASS HILL, NSW 2197
AUSTRALIA
PHONE: 61-2-727-9679
Founded in 1989, AMSA meets monthly to discuss "general LDS topics . . . in the Australian context, with the hope of encouraging more research and scholarship on aspects of the Church in Australia." The group welcomes LDS, RLDS, and non-LDS people interested in constructive conversation.

THE B. H. ROBERTS SOCIETY
c/o BRIAN KAGEL
3494 WEST 1700 SOUTH
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84118
801/966-8856
Since 1980, the B. H. Roberts Society has provided a forum for the discussion of current Mormon issues. Governed by a rotating board of directors, the organization sponsors public lectures and panel discussions in Salt Lake City on a quarterly basis.

BEEHIVE FOUNDATION
1011 WEST MERMOD
CARLSBAD, NM 88220
505/883-2178
800/524-2799
FAX: 505/887-2671
Beginning with a 1983 trip to Mexico to deliver surplus clothing, the Beehive Foundation has grown to include well over 500 volunteers who supply more than three million pounds of clothes to Mexico and Central America each year. The Foundation has also planted a half million gardens and supported orphanages and children's hospitals. Although the Foundation is not officially connected to the LDS church, its organization was prompted by "principles of Christian charity" and its guiding principle is the LDS emphasis on self-reliance. The Foundation seeks volunteers—"people who want to give their time, their money, their efforts or all three in order to help wipe out poverty and sickness around the world."

BOOKCRAFT
1848 WEST 2300 SOUTH
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84119
801/972-6180
FAX: 801/972-6184

AND INTERCULTURAL EXCHANGE
643 EAST 400 SOUTH
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84102
801/363-7970
Organized out of the Andean Children's Foundation in 1988, CHOICE is a non-profit, nonsectarian (though principally LDS in membership) organization dedicated to "improving people's lives through active, enduring humanitarian service." CHOICE sponsors "volunteer expeditions" in which families, organizations, groups of associates, or singles—trained or previously untrained—"work side by side with the rural poor to develop projects which the villagers request and will be able to sustain after the expedition departs." CHOICE volunteers have worked with water supply systems, greenhouses, schools and literacy, and have provided health and medical assistance. CHOICE also funds humanitarian research.

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF
CHRISTIAN VALUES IN LITERATURE
3076 E. JKB
BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY
PROVO, UT 84602
801/378-3073
In 1980, the Center for the Study of Christian Values in Literature was established at BYU by the College of Humanities. The Center exists to "encourage the reading and writing of quality literature that presents affirmative values and themes," to "develop and promote a sound critical theory of literary analysis that is based on religious principles," and to "cooperate with other individuals and groups whose concerns are congenial to those of the Center." The Center sponsors a variety of symposiums, lectures, writing contests (including BYU's annual David O. McKay Essay Contest), and publications, including the journal Literature and Belief. The Center also publishes a monograph series. Inquiries about the Center or its activities are welcome.

CHARLES REDD CENTER FOR WESTERN STUDIES

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY
PROVO, UT 84602-1001
801/378-4048
The Charles Redd Center, established at BYU in 1972 by Charles and Annaley Redd, conducts and funds research on various aspects of the Intermountain West, some of which include Mormon research. The center has conducted oral history interviews dealing with Mormon history topics. Those interested in the experiences of Mormons in the West can apply for fellowships. The center also publishes a monograph series, with titles selected through a competition.

COLLIER'S PUBLISHING
OLD GREEN CHURCH
HANNA, UT 84031
Fred C. Collier, a Mormon fundamentalist, compiles and publishes teachings of early Mormon leaders, such as Unpublished Revelations of the Prophets and Presidents of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and
The Teachings of President Brigham Young. Vol.
3, 1852-1854 (vols. 1 and 2 not published).

In 1980, the Center for the Study of Collegium Aesculapium was independently organized to meet the needs of LDS physicians and their families, as well as those of the Church and world communities. The BYU Alumni Association publishes the Journal of Collegium Aesculapium which features articles of interest to students and professionals in the medical field. Members also meet in seminannual conferences. Membership in Collegium Aesculapium is $75 for practicing M.D.s; $50 for "friends" with non-M.D. status; and $10 for students and students-in-training.

DAUGHTERS OF UTAH PIONEERS
300 NORTH MAIN STREET
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84103
801/338-1050

According to its constitution and by-laws, Daughters of Utah Pioneers is a non-sectarian organization. Anyone is eligible for membership who is descended from a Utah pioneer from the period 1847-1869, “whether they be Mormon, non-Mormon, white, black or other race.” However, the majority of members and the majority of pioneers whose histories, pictures, and relics they collect and preserve are LDS. DUP operates a historical museum in Salt Lake City and publishes an annual book series, Chronicles of Courage. Members meet in chapters throughout the U.S. and Canada.

DESERET BOOK
40 E. SOUTH TEMPLE
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84130
801/358-1315
FAX: 801/578-3267

Tracing its origins to 1866, Deseret Book Company, a subsidiary of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, is the oldest existing Latter-day Saint publisher. Books and tapes are generally religious in nature and cover inspiring history, biography, doctrine and theology, and fiction. Popular recent titles include the biography Howard W. Hunter by Eleanor Knowles, Twelve Sisters by Leslie Beaton Hedley, and The Papers of Joseph Smith edited by Dean Jessee.

DESERET INTERNATIONAL
DESERET INTERNATIONAL FOUNDATION
1282 EAST CAMBRIDGE COURT
PROVO, UT 84604
801/374-0167
FAX: 801/374-8961

Starting in the Philippines in 1986, and now operating in at least thirteen countries throughout Central and South America, Africa, Asia, and the Pacific, Deseret International “is a private, nondenomina-tional charity whose goal is to provide surgical and dental assistance primarily for children in emerging nations.” The Foundation’s board of directors is composed of medical professionals who are, for the most part, LDS, and who seek to “promote international good will, as well as Christian ideals of brotherly love.” The Foundation strives to help local medics establish adequate health facilities, to perform surgeries that enable dramatic lifestyle changes, to treat people of all races and faiths, and to keep overhead costs low by soliciting medical and dental supplies. Volunteers and donations are welcome and appreciated.

DESERET SINGLES
PO. BOX 705
BELMONT, CA 94002-7075
415/342-8260

Deseret Singles exists to provide opportunities for LDS singles in the greater San Francisco Bay area to meet and fellowship with each other. Aside from regular meetings, the group plans large-scale activities, such as an upcoming trip to the Hill Cumorah pageant in New York.

EARLY MORMON RESEARCH INSTITUTE
433 EAST 300 SOUTH
HYRUM, UT 84319

Organized in 1989 to coincide with the 150th anniversary of the founding of Nauvoo, IL, the Early Mormon Research Institute began issuing a quarterly journal, Nauvoo Journal. Since 1992, the journal has been published semiannually. Current membership is seventy-five and growing.

Enterprise Mentors

ENTREPRENEURS
INTERNATIONAL ENTERPRISE FOUNDATION
510 MARYVILLE COLLEGE DR., SUITE 210
ST. LOUIS, MO 63141
314/453-0006
314/453-9700

Founded in 1990 by a mostly LDS “group of individuals with extensive international business experience in developing countries,” Enterprise Mentors is a human development foundation designed “to build self-reliance and entrepreneurial spirit within those who struggle for sufficiency in developing countries.” Working primarily in the Philippines (but expanding to Latin America and other areas of the world), Enterprise Mentors establishes local boards of directors and indigenous staff, allowing the formation of self-reliance. “Some charge is always made for services based upon ability to pay, transforming the donor-receiver, dependency relationships into a character building, consultant-client relationship.” A non-profit, tax-exempt organization, Enterprise Mentors depends on individual, foundation, and corporate donations to achieve its goals.

EVERGREEN INTERNATIONAL
PO. BOX 3
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84110
801/335-1658

According to its mission statement, “Evergreen attests that individuals can free themselves from same-sex attraction and homosexual behavior, and is committed to assisting individuals who wish to do so.” Evergreen was organized in July 1989 in Salt Lake City, Utah, by eleven men who felt a need for a transition group to assist them in their process of individual healing. From this small group, Evergreen has grown into an international organization with chapters throughout the United States and many other countries. The Salt Lake headquarters provides information and guidance to these self-governed chapters. Evergreen, a non-profit organization, is not a clinical therapy program. It is not directed by any public or private mental health care agency or individual, nor does it claim to have professional training or licensing.

FAMILY FELLOWSHIP
PO. BOX 3930
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84110
801/382-2348

Family Fellowship is “a volunteer service organization, a diverse collection of Mormon families engaged in the cause of strengthening families with homosexual members. We share our witness that gay and lesbian Mormons can be great blessings in the lives of their families, and that families can be great blessings in the lives of their gay and lesbian members.” The organization sponsors meetings and firesides, and publishes the newsletter Reunion.
This independent, LDS-oriented association was organized in 1981 to promote, coordinate, and finance research on Mormon scriptures, particularly the Book of Mormon. In addition to publishing a quarterly newsletter with a circulation of 1,380, F.A.R.M.S. makes available a wide variety of reprints and other publications, most of which are stored at Brigham Young University.

The Foundation for Research on Ancient America (FRAA) is a nonprofit corporation comprised of individuals who desire to advance the knowledge of Jesus Christ and The Book of Mormon. Founded in 1966, this RLDS organization has expanded to produce monthly publications, The Witness, and also sponsors regular series of Book of Mormon/Archaeology lectures. Membership is granted as a result of any financial contribution.

Conceived in 1991 and formally established in 1992 as a subgroup of Affirmation: Gay and Lesbian Mormons, Gamofites is designed for "fathers united in the joy of being both gay and associated with Mormons." Since January 1992, the group has planned and executed semianual retreats where, in informal group conversation, participants can "respond to the general, collective needs of our members." With no elected or official leadership, Gamofites depends on volunteers to devote time and resources to planning retreats and maintaining an informational network.

HATRACK RIVER PUBLICATIONS
PO. BOX 1415
OREM, UT 84059
FAX: 910/258-5470

According to Hatrack River's godfather, Orson Scott Card, "Great LDS fiction must begin by rejecting the worlds lie that there are two kinds of writers, one that tells stories that are 'entertaining,' and the other that tells stories that are 'true.' The great LDS stories will be those that are at once fascinating and illuminating: stories that, in the old phrase, give their readers both sweetness and light—both entertainment and understanding." Hatrack's first piece of LDS fiction is Kathryn Kidd's humorous Paradise Vue; its most recent title is DeAnne Nielson's Perfect Neighbors.

INTERNATIONAL ACTION GROUP

do LDS HUMANITARIAN SERVICES
50 E. NORTH TEMPLE, 7TH FLOOR
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84105
The Salt Lake-based International Action Group, an umbrella for LDS-affiliated and other humanitarian organizations, first met in the spring of 1992. Independent of the Church—with LDS Humanitarian Services as only one of many members—the group meets semiannually to discuss developments and new ideas and to consolidate resources. Beginning spring 1994, the group established a rotating chair, allowing each of the various groups an opportunity to head the informal council.

IOWA MORMON TRAILS ASSOCIATION, INC.
500 EAST TAYLOR
CRESTON, IA 50801
Organized in 1992–93 by historians and landowners in Iowa (principally non-LDS), IMTA is a non-profit corporation “dedicated to the preservation and development of the Mormon Trails across Iowa.” The corporation works with the National Parks Service and other organizations, hoping to establish “consistent nationwide signage,” to “design a state of Iowa historic trails map [and] a statewide directory of Mormon Trail historic resources,” and to develop communications, public relations, and fundraising efforts. Membership dues range from $5,000 (founder) to $10 (individual). The general membership meets annually in June. IMTA is currently working toward a 1996 sesquicentennial commemoration of the Mormon pioneers’ departure from Nauvoo.

Founded near the close of 1993, the James E. Talmage Society, sponsored by the BYU College of Physical and Mathematical Scientists, is open to professional scientists and students in chemistry and biochemistry, computer science, geology, mathematics, physics and astronomy, and statistics. The society aims to “develop a sense of community among LDS scientists [by] publicizing awards by LDS scientists, answering questions and publishing essays on issues important to LDS scientists, and highlighting important research being done by LDS scientists, both at BYU and elsewhere.” Information and a newsletter are available upon request. The society also hosts the computer network lamps.

JOHN WHITMER HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

do GRACELAND COLLEGE
LAMONI, IA 50140
The John Whitmer Historical Association is an independent organization dedicated to the study of Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints history. The 450 members meet annually to foster historical research and writing among people interested in the history and thought behind the beginnings of Mormonism. Membership rates ($15 annually; $12.50 students; $5 spouse; $27.50 joint membership with Mormon History Association) include a subscription to an annual journal.

JOSEPH FIELDING SMITH INSTITUTE FOR CHURCH HISTORY
127 KMB
BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY
PROVO, UT 84602
801/378-4023
In 1980, Church Historian Leonard Arrington’s Church History Division was transferred from Salt Lake to BYU and renamed the Joseph Fielding Smith Institute for Church History. Since that time, members of the Institute have continued to produce groundbreaking works in Mormon history, often while teaching university classes as well.

LATTER-DAY SAINTS FOR CULTURAL AWARENESS
498 EAST 630 NORTH
LINDON, UT 84042-1555
“Latter-day Saints for Cultural Awareness is a growing, evolving group of members of the Lord's Church whose goal is to provide fellowship, brotherhood, and understanding to other members of the Lord's Kingdom on earth." The group grew out of earlier organizations such as Genesis groups and the Latter-day Saint African-American Cultural Awareness Group (LDSCAACAG), and reached its current incarnation in 1991. While the LDSCA's main emphasis has been on African-American Latter-day Saints, it hopes to expand to reflect the Church's cultural diversity. The group publishes a monthly newsletter, UpLift, and sponsors an annual meeting.

MORMON ALLIANCE

6337 HIGHLAND DRIVE
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84121

The Mormon Alliance was organized in 1992 to "uncover, identify, define, name, chronic, resist, and even combat acts and threats of defamation and spiritual abuse perpetrated on Mormon individuals and institutions by Mormons and non-Mormon individuals and institutions." Its trustees "wish to stress that the Alliance is not anti-Mormon or anti-Church. It is anti-spiritual abuse. It does not profess to provide alternate ecclesiastical structure, only an alternate view of spiritual and ecclesiastical power within the divinely authorized structures of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints." The Mormon Alliance prints a newsletter, By Common Consent, and an annual report.

MORMON HISTORY ASSOCIATION

2470 NORTH 1000 WEST

Since 1980, MPHS has existed to research and publish material relative to Latter-day Saints in the Pacific Basin, maintain bibliographic and reference information relative to these Saints, hold conferences and workshops to teach and learn from those interested in Pacific LDS history, and teach the skills required to continue gathering information on the Church in the Pacific Basin. The Society holds annual conventions for its eighty members and publishes the proceedings. Every third year the annual convention is held "off-island," at a location other than Hawaii.

MORMON PEACE GATHERING

709 6TH AVENUE
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84103
801/393-8226

The Mormon Peace Gathering was organized in 1992 with the intent to bring about an end to nuclear weapons testing and to secure that end with a comprehensive test ban. Its members are "inspired by the efforts of many people throughout the world who, recognizing the presence of evil and injustice around them, have heeded the spiritual promptings to be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness." (D&C 58:27.) The Peace Gathering sponsored a Mormon Weekend at the Nevada test site through the Nevada Desert Experience in 1993, and will continue to promote activities that help LDS people "renounce war and proclaim peace." (D&C 98:16.)

Ouelessebougou Alliance

OUELESSEBOUGOU-UTAH ALLIANCE
212 WEST 1300 SOUTH
SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84115
801/486-2136

Although not officially or unofficially connected with the LDS church, Ouelessebougou-Utah Alliance began in 1985 when seven Utahns traveled to Mali, an African country, to search for a “community or group of villages with which they and the Salt Lake community could begin a long-term relationship to help and learn.” The Utah group eventually forged that relationship with the Ouelessebougou region, comprised of seventy-two villages and 35,000 struggling people. The Alliance undertakes projects requested by the villagers, who define their own needs, contribute labor to projects, and provide their own leadership “so that when the Alliance has completed its work, the projects will continue independently.” To succeed in its projects—constructing wells, fencing gardens, providing basic health care training, and teaching literacy—the Alliance depends on individual and community support.

Outreach International is a humanitarian organization with affiliates worldwide (forty-six programs in sixteen countries). Based on a model of “Participatory Human Development,” Outreach empowers developing communities to set their own priorities, locate resources, and eventually solve their own problems. In 1969, two LDS officials and an Independence physician founded Missions Health Foundation, a health ministry with some emphasis on community development. In 1972, three LDS apostles recognized the need for separate funds for human development and founded Outreach, Inc., which was reorganized by the First Presidency, Presiding Bishopric, and president of the Council of Twelve in 1979 as Outreach International. Although Outreach is independent of the LDS church, its origins and development are closely tied.

Reconciliation:

Gays, Lesbians, and Mormon Families Seeking Spirituality

801/596-8315

Reconciliation was founded “to create a safe haven for Mormon gays, lesbians, their families and friends to study the gospel and develop relationships with Christ. To enhance the meetings, there is no bashing of any organization, people, or individuals. The purpose is not to change anyone’s sexual orientation but to come together to love and heal one another.”

Religious Studies Center

270 JSB
BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY
PROVO, UT 84602
801/378-2706

The Religious Studies Center at BYU was founded in 1975 to “facilitate not only the University’s commitment to religious studies but... to serve those same interests among the general membership of the LDS church.” While the center’s primary function is “to bring researchers with common interests in religious studies together,” leading to publication of special projects, “one basic objective... is to improve the teaching effectiveness of participants and to support the classroom presentation of the message of the restored gospel.” RSC publishes a newsletter three times a year and sponsors symposia on subjects such as “Old Testament Prophets,” “Mormonism and Islam,” and “The Pearl of Great Price,” from which selected papers are also published. RSC also publishes several books each year for the serious researcher of Mormon studies, such as Joseph Smith: The Prophet, the Man, edited by Susan Easton Black and Charles D. Tate Jr.

Exponent II is an independent, volunteer organization that publishes a quarterly paper addressing women's issues in an LDS context. Founded in 1974, Exponent II has a readership of approximately 2,500. The editors solicit and publish fiction, poetry, book reviews, and readers' responses; however, the newspaper's foundation is the personal essay—the written description of the author's life journey in her own voice. Exponent II is committed to providing a forum for women to exchange their experiences in an atmosphere of trust and acceptance, and sees itself as a forum for the celebration of the strength and diversity of women.

To get to the Mormon section of this popular commercial computer network service, jump to "God of the Book," then select "Latter-day Saints." Free-for-all discussion on Mormonism can also be found in "Not the Party Line."

Q-SAINTS
<deci15@ain.com> or <sharic@microsoft.com>
This list is for "an open and welcoming community of lesbian, gay, and bisexual people and their friends and family from LDS and RLDS backgrounds." Although the list is operated by members of Affirmation: Gay & Lesbian Mormons, membership in Affirmation is not required.

SAINTS-BEST
<listserv@mainstream.com>
HELP: <anderson@merl.com>
This is a low-volume magazine (5-10 messages a week) with news stories and selected messages from other lists. SAINTS-BEST is the most popular of the Internet lists, with over 500 subscribers.

SAMU-L (STUDIES IN ANTIQUITIES AND MORMONISM—UNCONTENTIOUS), <psalcal@bingvmb.cc.binghamton.edu>
POSTINGS: <samu-l@bingvmb.cc.binghamton.edu>
SAMU-L, the spiritual descendent of MORMON-ANT, is a "closed-subscription, moderated-forum for thoughtful and informative discussions of Mormonism and antiquities." Prospective subscribers are added to SAMU-L only after they have read and agreed to abide by a list of guidelines, including friendliness to the idea of the Book of Mormon as an historic record and a ban on character assassinations and insults. Messages not meeting guideline requirements will not be posted.

WORLD WIDE WEB
<http://wings.buffalo.edu/Staff/jpmew/lds.html>
WORLD WIDE WEB is a good place to start on the Internet. This web page has pointers to online scriptures and other archives of LDS information, genealogy resources, and historical LDS texts.

ZION
<majordomo@zilker.net>
HELP: John W. Redefels <tsjw@camelot.aclf.alaska.edu>
POSTINGS: <zion@zilker.net>
ZION is a conservative list "for those who find joy in following our Savior, Jesus Christ, and those whom He has sent to lead us, the apostles and prophets of the LDS church." Its owners consider it a "refuge from discussions of feminism, homosexuality, etc."
